Children get together before The Big Sing at Halifax's recently restored Piece Hall Calderdale Museums

This Friday, May 25, sees the award winning Piece Hall in Halifax bring 1000 children together to recreate the historic Whitsuntide 'Big Sing'.

Between 1831 and 1890 thousands of local Sunday School children would gather in The Piece Hall over Whitsuntide for The Big Sing. Records show that up to 34,000 would pack the vast courtyard for this popular event and celebration of song over what is now known as the Spring Bank Holiday.

Now, the Piece Hall Trust in partnership with Calderdale Music Trust and Music Director Sam Dunkley from Performing Arts etc. will recreate this magnificent tradition once again. The project will bring 1,000 children from over 20 Calderdale primary schools together to perform a selection of songs, a number of which have been specially commissioned and written by the schools involved.

Big Sing event marks Piece Hall's extraordinary heritage

This inaugural event will bring the Piece Hall to life in what is hoped will become an annual tradition. Come along and witness history being recreated as we celebrate the past, present and future of

The Piece Hall and the local community!

The Piece Hall, which dates to the 18th century and is the UK's only surviving cloth hall, is nearing the first anniversary of its re-opening this August after a £7.2million regeneration project funded by the National Lottery that has reimagined the hall as a new centre for culture and commerce in Yorkshire and the Humber.
