Foreword

The National Lottery Heritage Fund’s 10-year strategy sets out our ambitions to support projects of all sizes that connect people and communities to the UK’s heritage.

Our consultation found that people wanted us to do even more to address the challenges heritage faces and to increase the positive contribution it makes to life in the UK.

Over the next decade we will take a longer-term view, investing in heritage for the future as well as for the present. We will invest in places, not just individual projects, to bring about benefits for people, places and our natural environment.

We will strengthen partnerships with governments, local authorities and statutory agencies and create new collaborations with those who share our vision.

These ambitions are set out in a simplified investment framework and form the foundation of our shared vision for heritage to be valued, cared for and sustained for everyone.

– The National Lottery Heritage Fund Board of Trustees

Introducing our strategy

As the largest funder for the UK’s heritage, our vision is for heritage to be valued, cared for and sustained for everyone, now and in the future. We believe in the power of heritage to ignite the imagination, offer joy and inspiration, and to build pride in place and connection to the past.

Over the next 10 years, we aim to invest £3.6billion raised for good causes by National Lottery players to make a decisive difference for people, places and communities.

In summer 2022, over 4,000 stakeholders and members of the public shared their views on heritage and our future direction. This powerful feedback, combined with our own experience, has shaped our new approach.

We will strengthen and focus our support for the UK's heritage using four principles that will underpin our investment:

- saving heritage
- protecting the environment
- inclusion, access and participation
- organisational sustainability

We will use these principles to create a more flexible framework to guide our funding.

We will continue to do what we do well: our open programmes with devolved decision-making using the local knowledge and expertise of our six area and nation committees.

In future, we will also take a more proactive approach to strengthen strategic investment, targeting our resources towards the most urgent needs.

The detail of how we will deliver this 10-year strategy will be published through a series of three-year delivery plans.

Our renewed approach has been created through the generous contributions and expertise of many people and partners who care about heritage. We want to continue these conversations, so that National Lottery funding enables heritage to inspire, and challenge, to delight and fascinate, now and in the future.

– Simon Thurley, Chair

– Eilish McGuinness, Chief Executive

Achieving our vision

Our vision is for heritage to be valued, cared for and sustained for everyone, now and in the future.

We see heritage as broad and inclusive, adapting to contemporary and future uses and challenges. From the historic and natural environment to our museums, libraries and archives. From our industrial legacy to cultural traditions, stories, memories, celebrations and more. Heritage can be anything from the past that people value and want to pass on to future generations.

It is our privilege to support the UK's heritage with money raised by National Lottery players. Since 1994, we have invested over £8.2bn in more than 45,000 projects. We operate across all four nations of the UK as a non-departmental public body of the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS). We work in collaboration with a wide range of statutory bodies across the UK as well as other National Lottery distributors. We receive Financial Directions from DCMS as well as Policy Directions for the UK and England, and from the Scottish and Welsh governments, with Directions in Northern Ireland currently under development.

We deliver additional funding for heritage on behalf of governments and other bodies to achieve our shared aims.

Our four new investment principles will guide all our decision making through open programme funding, our strategic investments or when entering new collaborations and partnerships.

We will ask the projects we fund to take all four investment principles into account in their applications. The strength of focus, and emphasis on each principle, will be for applicants to demonstrate. We will provide greater detail on what this will mean through guidance and our delivery plans.

Investment principle 1

Saving heritage

Conserving and valuing heritage, for now and the future.

What we mean

Our support will ensure heritage remains accessible, relevant, sustainable and valued.

What we will do

Heritage at risk: We will commit funding to protect, conserve and revitalise heritage of all kinds that is in poor condition or at risk of loss, decline, damage, neglect or of being forgotten – ensuring it is valued and better understood.

Invest in places: Heritage has a unique role in bringing people together where they live, work and visit. We will increase people's connection with the heritage of their local places through targeted investment in our historic and natural environment.

Revitalise and maintain: We will invite proposals to work with us to develop the skills, capacity and innovation to sustain and manage heritage. We will identify opportunities for revitalising diverse types of heritage.

By 2033 we will have:

- Improved the condition, viability and public understanding of thousands of heritage sites, collections, habitats, species and intangible cultural heritage.
- Measurably reduced the amount of heritage identified as 'at risk', whether through loss, facing extinction, assessed as being in poor or unfavourable condition or at risk of being forgotten.

- Delivered long-term projects to transform local areas, towns, cities and landscapes by taking a targeted approach to improving the condition of heritage and the pride people take in their local environment.
- Ensured that the digital heritage resources we support are open, accessible and discoverable by future generations.

Investment principle 2

Protecting the environment

Supporting nature recovery and environmental sustainability.

What we mean

We will support natural heritage and environmentally sustainable projects that help the UK meet its nature recovery targets and mitigate the impact of climate change on heritage.

What we will do

Landscape: We will increase our support for strategic and landscape-scale projects – both rural and urban – that help habitats and species thrive, reducing and mitigating the impacts of climate change, while helping people connect to our unique natural heritage.

Nature: We will invest through partnerships to help halt and reverse the loss and decline of habitats and species.

Environmental footprint: We will support heritage projects that reduce adverse environmental impacts and help heritage to adapt to our changing climate. If projects involve construction, we will encourage restoration, conservation and reuse, rather than new build.

Mitigation: We will collaborate to bring natural, built and cultural heritage stakeholders together to identify and mitigate climate risks to heritage and involve people in bringing about positive behaviour change.

By 2033 we will have:

- Put landscapes and habitats in both urban and rural places into recovery, so they support abundant natural heritage and healthy natural systems.
- Increased people's understanding and connection with nature across towns, cities and the countryside.
- Reduced the negative environmental impact and carbon footprint of our funding portfolio.
- Improved the ability of natural and cultural heritage to plan for and adapt to a changing climate and helped projects take action for the environment.

Investment principle 3

Inclusion, access and participation

Supporting greater inclusion, diversity, access and participation in heritage.

What we mean

We will support organisations to ensure everyone has opportunities to learn, develop new skills and explore heritage, regardless of background or personal circumstances.

What we will do

Involve a more diverse range of people in heritage, investing in volunteering, heritage careers, co-creating projects, leadership, governance and developing knowledge and skills.

Enable organisations to remove barriers to access and participation, particularly for people who are under-served by heritage.

Support all communities to explore and share their heritage, with a focus on making the stories of our four nations more inclusive of everyone's heritage.

Accessible digital heritage resources: Support greater use of digital technology to make heritage more accessible and enjoyable, and promote better access to heritage information, enabling projects to increase impact and reach.

By 2033 we will have:

- Increased the diversity of heritage workforces, leadership and audiences.
- Addressed the barriers to access for people under-served by heritage, providing more equitable opportunities for active involvement and participation.
- Enriched people's lives through our investment, enabling everyone's heritage to be recognised.
- Supported people to creatively use digital technology in heritage to promote access and reach.

Investment principle 4

Organisational sustainability

Strengthening heritage to be adaptive and financially resilient, contributing to communities and economies.

What we mean

We will support organisations to develop the skills and capacity to ensure a sound long-term future and encourage new heritage investment that benefits communities and economies.

What we will do

Support financial sustainability: We will continue to offer funding to build resilience, providing organisations with capacity and expertise to develop their long-term organisational and financial plans.

Support heritage skills development: We will collaborate with partners to identify opportunities to build capacity, skills and expertise in heritage, to contribute to thriving communities and economies.

Provide flexible funding: We will offer flexible financial support in the early planning stages of projects for preparatory analysis and activities. We will also make available follow-on funding for time-limited periods on completion of significant capital projects to help embed operational stability.

New finance and investment: We will champion the use of more diverse income sources such as green finance and commercial approaches and help build the capacity and skills needed to deliver this.

By 2033 we will have:

- Supported organisations to increase their financial and organisational sustainability by developing their commercial and digital skills and strengthening governance and leadership.
- Supported the development of skills and capacity in the heritage sector.
- Used our flexible funding model to embed resilience in the projects we fund.
- Enabled the heritage sector to strengthen its contribution to economies and local communities.

Our funding portfolio

Open, responsive, devolved

We will continue our current approach of offering open funding programmes – from small grants up to multi-million-pound projects – for all types of heritage.

Most funding decisions will continue to be delegated to our six area and nation committees and operational staff across the UK. This will enable differences in heritage character in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland to benefit from local expertise.

Scale and reach

Our funding programmes have had a ceiling of £5million for over 20 years, which is limiting opportunities for some initiatives to come forward. From 2023, we will introduce a higher investment threshold of £10m to allow for larger-scale investment and will consider investing in projects above this threshold to support truly exceptional heritage projects across the UK. We will adapt our investment thresholds and approach through the 10-year strategy to respond to the needs and requirements of heritage.

Strategic interventions across the UK

We will also introduce new strategic funding streams with the aim of:

- Proactively tackling long-standing heritage issues at a large scale.
- Supporting projects that boost pride in place and connection to heritage.
- Strengthening our focus on heritage at the heart of places, nature and the environment.
- Enabling a coordinated cross-territory approach that will strengthen delivery.
- Allowing us to respond to emerging opportunities and emergencies at speed and at a national level.
- Supporting projects and addressing heritage gaps where proposals are not coming through into our open programmes.
- Accelerating new ideas and interventions where a deliberate approach is needed.

We will regularly review our strategic interventions through three-year delivery plans.

Early initiatives will include:

Place

We will target place-based investment that boosts pride in place and connects communities and visitors with heritage. Drawing on national indicators, combined with local intelligence about the need, opportunity and potential for heritage, we will invest at least £200m over the life of this strategy. We will boost the capacity of local places and communities to develop partnerships and seek out areas that have the potential to draw in and benefit from wider investment.

Landscape and nature

We will support large-scale projects that revive landscapes, support nature recovery and enhance connectivity for people and wildlife. We will work with partners including Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty, National Parks, conservation organisations, communities and landowners to put entire landscapes and habitats into recovery so they support abundant natural heritage, rich cultural heritage and healthy natural systems. We will invest across rural, suburban and urban areas to enhance landscape character by funding new approaches, sustainable activities and capital improvements.

Heritage in need

We will take an evidence-based approach to identifying gaps in support to the heritage sector, particularly where there is heritage at risk and in need of conservation – for example places of worship or industrial heritage. We will provide targeted support to build capacity, develop approaches to project planning and diversify income streams to help build a future project pipeline.

Acquisitions, opportunities and emergencies

We will ensure we can respond swiftly and act when necessary to respond to unique situations and opportunities. This could mean supporting acquisitions of exceptional heritage, marking significant events or supporting heritage areas and organisations dealing with an unforeseen emergency. We will work flexibly when the heritage sector needs to come together to secure the future of the most important heritage of all types for future generations.

Context

Purpose of the delivery plan

The National Lottery Heritage Fund's 10-year strategy, Heritage 2033, sets out our ambitions to make a decisive difference for people, places and communities as we invest an anticipated £3.6 billion raised for good causes by National Lottery players over the next decade.

Our long-term strategy is supported by three-year delivery plans, setting out how the aims of the strategy will be delivered. They will allow us to take a flexible approach, adapting to heritage sector needs and responding to external events or opportunities over the 10 years.

Our 2023–2026 delivery plan sets out the key milestones and how we will deliver National Lottery investment for the first three years, as well as how we are transitioning to our new strategy in 2023–2024. This plan will be updated annually as part of our business planning processes.

Our vision

Our vision is for heritage to be valued, cared for and sustained for everyone, now and in the future.

Our investment principles

Our four investment principles guide all our decision making:

- Saving heritage: conserving and valuing heritage, for now and the future.
- Protecting the environment: supporting nature recovery and environmental sustainability.
- Inclusion, access and participation: supporting greater inclusion, diversity, access and participation in heritage.
- Organisational sustainability: strengthening heritage to be adaptive and financially resilient, contributing to communities and economies.

We will ask projects we fund to take all four investment principles into account in their applications. Further details for applicants will follow in updated guidance, communications and announcements during the transition year of 2023–2024.

Our values

Our values and behaviours are fundamental to the way we work. They are embedded across our strategic and business planning and our leadership and management. Our four values are:???

- Inclusive?of all aspects of heritage, people and communities.?
- Ambitious? for our people, communities and heritage.?
- Collaborative by working and learning together.?
- Trusted? for our integrity, expertise and judgement.

The role of The National Lottery Heritage Fund

As the largest funder of UK heritage, The National Lottery Heritage Fund (Heritage Fund) invests money raised by National Lottery players across the UK, in collaboration with a wide range of statutory bodies, as well as other National Lottery distributors. Our work is made possible thanks to the support of National Lottery players. We award 20% of the good causes income raised by National Lottery players and deliver grant programmes on behalf of the UK and devolved governments.

We are a non-departmental public body accountable to Parliament via the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS). Our decisions about individual applications and policies are entirely independent of the government. The Trustees of the National Heritage Memorial Fund is our legal body for the administration and supervision of all funds vested in us. It was set up by the National Heritage Act 1980 to administer the National Heritage Memorial Fund.

The role of the National Heritage Memorial Fund

The National Heritage Memorial Fund (NHMF) was set up in 1980 to save the most outstanding parts of our national heritage, in memory of those who have given their lives for the UK.

As a fund of last resort, NHMF provides financial assistance towards the acquisition, preservation and maintenance of some of the UK's finest objects and landscapes. These range from historic houses and works of art, to trains, boats and ancient landscapes. NHMF has helped create a world-class collection that belongs to the people of the United Kingdom, forever.

This delivery plan details how we will deliver National Lottery investment.

2023–2026 priorities

Implementing Heritage 2033

Our priority in 2023–2024 is to implement our new strategy with this first year acting as a transition year as we move from the Strategic Funding Framework 2019–2024 to the new investment principles and aims set out in Heritage 2033.

In this first year we will establish and streamline our funding processes as we transition to assessing funding applications under the four investment principles, as well as mapping the development of our strategic initiatives and partnerships. This implementation programme includes updating our guidance, application forms and process, and the way we monitor and evaluate the impact of our grants. Our progress through the transition year will be evaluated at the end of 2023–2024.

Our funding approach will continue to be open, responsive and devolved. We will:

- deliver a place-based approach through our investments, strategic initiatives and partnerships
- establish new partnerships and long-term collaboration to meet identified sector needs
- use research, analysis and insight to support a shared long-term vision for heritage and improve our delivery
- champion innovation to find new solutions to heritage challenges
- grow digital leadership and confidence across UK heritage
- collaborate with partners in governments, arm's length bodies, the other National Lottery distributors and independent trusts and foundations to shape new initiatives to meet identified needs for heritage
- be an inclusive, accessible and equitable funder

- medium-term goal of net zero carbon before 2030 for our operations, decarbonising our offices, travel, waste and purchases
- long-term goal to reach net zero for our investments and grants (science-based target in line with the 2015 Paris Agreement)

We report on our environmental impact as part of our Annual Report and Accounts.

Equality, diversity and inclusion (EDI) in our investment and operations:

- ongoing implementation of our 2021 EDI Review actions, addressing improvements across our workforce, governance and organisational culture

Ensuring we have the right skills and capabilities to deliver and evaluate the strategy successfully:

- enabling our employees to develop the skills and flexibility to be able to deliver and evaluate Heritage 2033
- enhancing our data, research and analytical capabilities, including implementing a new Geographic Information System (GIS)

Continuous improvement of our organisational delivery:

Governance and decision making

Board, committees and decision making

We are governed by a Board of Trustees who lead on strategy development, with day-to-day activities delegated to the Executive team. The Board makes funding decisions on grant applications over £5m and holds a central investment budget for strategic initiatives and UK-wide programmes.

We have six grant making committees in Scotland, Northern Ireland, Wales and in three areas of England – North, Midlands and East, and London and South – which make decisions on grant requests between £250,000 and £5m. We continue to delegate the majority of our decision making to these six area and nation committees and operational employees across the UK (for decisions below £250,000).

We retain a 'country reserve' for Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland for grants that cannot be accommodated in delegated per capita budgets.

For grants above £5m, our Board retain oversight and decision making, following recommendations and input from the area and nation committees.

Allocated on a per capita basis, grant making committees receive the following percentages of delegated budgets:

| Area/nation | Budget |
|----------------------------|---------------|
| Northern Ireland | 2.9% |
| Wales | 4.8% |
| Scotland | 8.4% |
| England, North | 23.7% |
| England, Midlands and East | 25.2% |
| England, London and South | 35% |

The processes for grant applications, decision making and monitoring of grants are set out on our website.

Managing risks

Our risk register is regularly reviewed by the Executive team, the Board and our Audit and Risk Committee. Our risk appetite is reviewed and approved by the Board once a year.

Our main risks and mitigations for the first year of the delivery plan, 2023–2024, at the date of publication are:

Strategic

The external operating environment across the UK results in multiple, potentially conflicting, priorities during the cost of living crisis. We will manage this by:

- close working relationships with stakeholders and DCMS sponsor team
- gathering of intelligence and insight and ensuring teams are sighted on all developments
- clear leadership and awareness from directors in terms of impacts on their teams
- careful handling of sensitive programmes or investments

The transition to the new fourth National Lottery licence operator and handover/continuity arrangements. We will manage this through:

- close liaison with DCMS and the Gambling Commission
- advising DCMS of risks to operational delivery, investment planning and portfolio management
- scenario planning for a range of financial options

- collaborative working through the National Lottery Forum to share insight

Economic

High levels of inflation and labour market shortages is having a knock-on impact on supplier and project delivery costs, affecting the heritage sector, particularly in terms of construction and capital costs. We will manage this through:

- continual review of country reserve budgets and grant increase budgets
- review of risk appetite and emphasis on broad resilience support for organisations, including reviewing project planning, business plans and future proposals
- potential rescoping or value re-engineering in projects with grantees supported by our Register of Support Services (RoSS) consultants

Operational

Ensuring the right resource, capacity and skills to deliver the strategy implementation programme of work. We will manage this by:

- continually monitoring what is achievable in the timeframe, current resource and capacity, identifying where there are additional resource needs within the 7.75% cap on operating costs
- agreed budget in 2023–2024 includes an Executive budget to allow flexibility
- business continuity plans developed for the strategy implementation programme workstreams

Challenges in staff recruitment and staff retention due to real wage inflation and pay constraint across the public sector compared to private/third sector salaries. Career progression opportunities. We will manage this by:

- continuing to improve recruitment processes including widening recruitment channels, staff induction and onboarding processes
- developing relevant staff training and learning opportunities
- developing our employee value proposition

Delays in interdependent projects that are critical for the strategy implementation programme. These interdependencies include our investment management service, RoSS procurement and grant in aid delivery. We will manage this through:

- effective governance of interdependent projects with oversight at Board, Executive team and project board level
- project leads liaising to identify and escalate key delivery issues to our strategy implementation programme board
- appointment of a programme lead to manage and monitor the interdependencies between key delivery projects

Risk of cyber security threats that seek to damage, steal or disrupt. We will manage this through:

- strong operational controls and proactive monitoring systems

- continual external assessments of security measures/controls and vulnerability tests conducted by specialist cyber security experts

Impact and performance

Assessing the impact of our investment

Heritage 2033 describes the changes we want to achieve by 2033 across our four investment principles.

During the transition year (2023–2024), we will design a new impact framework that will allow us to regularly evaluate and assess our impact over the next 10 years. We will use the transition year to identify key performance indicators (KPIs) and develop baseline levels, where relevant. We will also establish a new cycle of internal and external reporting on both our impact measures and the actions we are taking to deliver against our aims. Some of the changes we want to achieve will also require detailed qualitative evidence to understand the impact of our work.

We will publish a first impact framework at the end of the transition year, setting out our new strategic KPIs and baseline measures.

We will continue to make all our research, insights and evaluation available via our website, to enable a full assessment of our impact for heritage. Through the publication of regular impact updates, we will improve our approach to measuring and monitoring the impact of our investments.

Measuring our performance

We produce operational indicators to measure our performance through our reporting to our sponsor department, DCMS. New strategic indicators will be developed following the new impact framework. In the meantime, our indicators currently include the following:

- a reduction in heritage assets considered to be ‘at risk’ as a direct result of Heritage Fund investment
- the number of jobs directly supported by Heritage Fund investment*
- the proportion of grant applications processed within the published timeframe
- the proportion of the public who engage with heritage, museums and galleries recorded in DCMS’s Participation Survey
- the number of volunteers directly supported through Heritage Fund investment*
- the amount and proportion of funding to the 20% most deprived local authority areas

*We will be making improvements to how we collect data with projects so we can monitor these areas more effectively.

Our service standards

We have set targets for the delivery of services to our applicants and grantees, which will be reviewed during the transition year.
