Schedule of Decisions under delegated powers to Head of HLF East of England on 24 November 2015

Our Heritage

Item	Project Title	Project Description	Applicant	Decision
1.	The Rendlesham Collection of Anglo-Saxon archaeology	To acquire the Rendlesham Collection, the result of a major archaeological research project at Rendlesham in Suffolk. This project has confirmed the location of the Anglo-Saxon palace mentioned by the historian Bede and is now recognised as an internationally important site. The finds represent a body of evidence for an important settlement where skilled metalworkers were producing luxury goods, foreign imports were readily available and large quantities of coinage were changing hands.	Colchester and Ipswich Museum Service	Award Grant of £31,000 (37%)
2.	Wartime in Fenland	To capture and share stories of the communities of Fenland during the Second World War through research, recording oral histories and learning materials for schools. The findings will be used to produce an historical role play, based in Wisbech Castle, for local primary school children, loan boxes and workshop materials to support teaching, a series of walking trails in Wisbech and district car trails for the general public.	Cambridgeshire Environmental Education Service	Reject
3.	Thurrock 100 'Heritage Walking and Talking'	As part of the Thurrock 100 Walking and Talking Festival - a series of walks of varied lengths totalling 100 miles developed with volunteers that invite the wider community to see, hear and speak about heritage on the move. Local people will identify 100 heritage stories initiated by a programme of community-led heritage talks that will then be interpreted through writings and drawings by school children and community participants.	Kinetika	Award Grant of £64,000 (96%)
4.	Scene Change at Studio Way	To celebrate MGM in Borehamwood by creating an innovative interpretation trail that uses the veteran trees on the historic site to bring the history alive. There will be improved access to make visitors feel more welcome and work will be carried out with volunteers to conserve the surviving landscape features.	Hertsmere Borough Council	Award Grant of £62,600 (66%)
5.	Experiencing and Understanding the Plantation Garden	Working with partners to: open up new participatory opportunities for children; reveal hidden elements of the Garden's wildlife and natural history; appreciate its unique historical context; allow access to parts of the Garden presently off limits; and provide a comprehensive visitor guide using virtual technology. These will involve input from a range of specialist sources working in collaboration with volunteers to prepare materials including: project briefs; interactive guide books; display materials; and web-based information and activities.	Norwich Plantation Garden	Award Grant of £38,800 (72%)
6.	Acquisition of Greens Land with training and learning	To acquire 1.9 hectares of grassland, wet scrub and ditches that lies in the core of the Theltham Fens Site of Special Scientific Interest. Conservation management (fencing for grazing, installation of monitoring etc), a programme of learning and participation activities based on the land. Complete a conservation management plan to specify the long term restoration and maintenance of the site.	Little Ouse Headwaters Project	Award Grant of £78,600 (82%)
